Book Adaptation Rights Market for 2022 has been edited using the information assembled by July 5th, 2022.
The Venice Production Bridge may not be held responsible for possible errors.

With this 7th edition of the Book Adaptation Rights Market, which will take place within the context of the 79th Venice International Film Festival, we are definitively reaching a milestone. Recognized as the third most important annual rendezvous by the publishers, the BARM has to move on to a new step. Our first decision is to increase the number of invited publishers and literary agencies from 25 to 30. The second is to include additional publishers coming from our regions focuses and thus we are welcoming more French ones and 3 Taipei publishing houses (Dala Publishing, Emily Books Agency and The Grayhawk Agency). Our third is to have our own focus and this year, we are exploring an unvaluable source of adaptations in films, TV series, gaming and immersive contents, the Comics and the Graphic novels. Prestigious specialized publishers from France, Spain, Italy, Belgium, Taipei (Casterman, Glénat, Nathan, Tunué, Astiberri Ediciones, Dala Publishing, Frémok, etc.) are included in this special focus.

Along with our faithful publishers, we are particularly glad to welcome renowned publishing houses like HarperCollins and Penguin Random House Verlagsgruppe and following our wish to discover new talents, we are greeting 15 new publishers and literary agencies coming from all over the world, and from countries which were not represented before, Israel, Croatia, Georgia, Taipei...

The following famous films and TV series have been adapted from some of their most successful titles: The Shape of Water, The Orphanage and Narcissus and Goldmund (Suhrkamp Verlag), Romanzo Criminale, Siberian Education or Lacci (Giulio Einaudi Editore), Wrinkles and The Lost Thing (Tunué), Mother's Instinct and Time is a Killer (Editis), Gomorra and The Solitude of Prime Numbers (Mondadori Libri), The Shallows of Kabul and Papillon (Robert Laffont), Le Otto montagne (Malatesta Literary Agency) just to name a few.

Thanks to their participation to past editions of the BARM : Editorial Planeta sold El Campamento (The Camp) to be adapted for a platform series produced by Good Chaos (UK); Feltrinelli sold Prima del Traguardo (Before the Finish Line) to Indigo Film and Lungta Film; Grandi & Associati has granted a motion picture and TV rights option for Spatriati (Einaudi) to DUDE; Malatesta Literary Agency sold Storia di Mila to Minerva, Italiana to The Apartment and Morante Moravia to Lucky red; Tunué sold the rights for comic series 7 CRIMINI to Lotus Productions while lots of other have started in Venice fruitful communication that has led to deals.

The publishers will be pitching their new titles as well as to present their complete catalogues, as opposed to other events dedicated to publishing within the context of Film Festivals that focus on a single book or volume. Producers will be offered a worldwide tour of publishing companies coming from all over the world. The uniqueness of this 3-day event consists not only in the organization of 1-to-1 meetings between the publishers and the producers, but also in enabling them to develop their network in a productive and welcoming setting. With the Book Adaptation Rights Market, the Venice Production Bridge renews its vocation to foster the development and production of international and European projects across a wide range of audio-visual forms. We warmly welcome you to this 7th edition and hope that it will bring many beneficial encounters.

ALFERJ E PRESTIA

Alferj and Prestia is a leading Italian literary agency founded in 2015, based in Rome and Turin. It was founded with the aim of curating the Italian and foreign rights of writers, screenwriters, journalists and essayists. Its efforts in building a catalogue of already important and yet-to-be-discovered voices have brought back great successes, and many of the literary projects have become films, television series, and plays. The agency's catalogue covers a broad spectrum of genres from fiction such as literary novels, thrillers, noirs, young adult and children's books to non-fiction.

Alferj and Prestia then devotes special importance to the foreign rights management of the represented authors, thanks to the help of experienced and trained co-agents, and, for the publisher Sellerio, the agency takes care of all Andrea Camilleri's foreign rights worldwide. Finally, the agency works with great care in the evaluation of unpublished manuscripts, and thanks to this service many successful books have been published. From here, the process scrupulously followed by Alferj and Prestia begins: it goes from the evaluation and acceptance of the manuscript, to the development of the book whether fiction or non-fiction, and then to the negotiation of contracts and above all to the assistance in the most important and strategic decisions in the professional life of the authors.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

The Wicked One (La malnata) (1) by Beatrice Salvioni (2023). This is a strong coming of age novel about a girl undergoing a liberating transformation. Thanks to her friend Maddalena, Francesca realizes that oppression and injustice not only rule her life as a bourgeois girl but are the essence of the fascist regime. Thanks to Maddalena she learns that she doesn't want to behave anymore and she grows up.

The Angel of Munich (L'angelo di Monaco) (2) by Fabiano Massimi (2020). A police commissioner is summoned to an apartment where a 20-year-old girl has been found dead in a locked room. Everything seems to lead to suicide, however she is no ordinary girl: her legal guardian is "uncle Alf", better known as Adolf Hitler. It is a thriller based on true events, never narrated before to a general audience.

The House on the River Bank (La casa sull'argine) (3) by Daniela Raimondi (2020). The Casadio family have always been honest people who lead a simple life, until Giacomo Casadio marries a gypsy. From that moment on, the family's descendants will split into two branches: the dreamers and the clairvoyants. An epic and intimate novel where the reader can fully immerse himself in the magic of dreams.

The Children's Train (Il treno dei bambini) (4) by Viola Ardone (2019). It was 1946 when Amerigo left his Neapolitan neighbourhood and got on a train thanks to an initiative by the Communist Party to alleviate the burden of poverty on children. The novel shows us Italy as it rises from the ashes of war.

FICTION

A Quiet Voice (A bassa voce) by Annachiara Fina (2023). To reopen a wound that has never healed, to confront the past and all the ghosts that populate her universe, Carlotta, the protagonist, has to tell a difficult story to the son of an old friend of hers.

Uvaspina by Monica Acito (2023). In a ruthless Naples we get to know the protagonists of this dramatic and haunting novel. The author draws us into a cancerous, spectacular Naples, beautiful but evil, where the good and the beautiful go bad fast and stink like fish.

The Girl Who Breathes Fire (La bambina sputafuoco) (6) by Giulia Binando Melis (2022). There are debuts that echo in the hearts of the readers, like this one. We all are the protagonist to the little boy or girl inside of us, when we entrust ourselves to a true friendship that doesn't leave us feeling alone.

Tea at Chaverton House (Un tè a Chaverton House) (7) by Alessia Gazzola (2021). Angelica has left everything, moved to England and ended up with an unexpected job. She has to decide whether to follow her head or her heart, or perhaps discover that these two parallels can actually meet.

The Guardians of the Lagoon (I guardiani della laguna) by Paolo Lanzotti (2021). During the carnival a member of the State Inquisition investigates a double homicide. Amid narrow streets, canals and the occasional dip into the local vernacular, the author manages to immerse the reader in the atmosphere of the most fascinating city in the world: Venice.

NON-FICTION

De arte gymnastica (De arte gymnastica) by Andrea Marcolongo (2022). Why do we run? Why all this hustle? We have to go back in time to the Greeks, the first who wondered why we test ourselves by measuring against others.

Life Outside Oneself (La vita fuori di sé) (5) by Pietro Del Soldà (2022). In a gripping encounter with the founding texts of Western culture and the most original contemporary readings, the author invites us to question ourselves without necessarily resorting to an escape into the wild.

Does the Sexual Relationship Exist? (Esiste il rapporto sessuale?) by Massimo Recalcati (2021). The sphere of human sexuality looks like a Cubist collage and this leads the author, following in the footsteps of Lacan, to wonder whether a sexual relationship even exists. In fact, every sexual relationship is first and foremost a relationship established by each one of us with our own ghosts.

The Fig Leaf (La foglia di fico) by Antonio Pascale (2021). Narrative non-fiction. This book is a horoscope and a sort of botanical study of feelings. Plants are an exceptional tool for dealing with our amusing nature: they resemble us more than we might ever have thought.

The Giant Squid (Il calamaro gigante) (8) by Fabio Genovesi (2021). Aboard these pages we sail to the moving discovery of the wonders of Nature and ourselves. How much absurd wonder exists underwater, but also above, and all around. Knowing it scares and sweeps us off our feet, but we should be happy: part of that boundless wonder is us.

ASTIBERRI EDICIONES

Astiberri Ediciones is a 20 year old publisher of graphic novels with around 700 published titles. From the very beginning Astiberri has consolidated an image of prestige with high quality editions aimed at an adult and educated public. We have been awarded 5 times (in 2003, 2004, 2005, 2006 and 2007) with the only prize in Spain for the best publishing job in the comics genre. Our ongoing commitment to quality is confirmed by the many nominations received for the Barcelona International Comics Festival awards: Astiberri has been the most nominated company for the past six years. Our catalogue includes works by some of the best selling Spanish authors such as Paco Roca, David Rubín, Sara Soler, Laura Pérez or Alfonso Zapico, and Astiberri won 6 times in 15 years the Comic National Prize awarded by the Spanish Ministry of Culture. Our books have been translated in more than 25 countries and some of them have already been adapted into feature film or TV series as Arrugas (Wrinkles Movie, Goya Award for Best Animated Film and Best Adapted Screenplay), El vecino (Netflix), El tesoro del Cisne Negro (The Fortune. AMC/Movistar), iGarcía! (in production by HBO Max), with many others under option. In 2020 we inaugurated a new collection dedicated to young readers: children, middle grade and young adults as well.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

The Treasure of the Black Swan (El tesoro del Cisne Negro) (1) by Guillermo Corral and Paco Roca (2018). This thrilling graphic novel, based on real events, and which has been adapted into an AMC Plus miniseries (La Fortuna) starring Stanley Tucci, chronicles the intense legal and political battles sparked by the discovery of a priceless shipwreck.

García! (iGarcía!) (2) by Santiago García and Luis Bustos (2015). Set in a present-day Spain that is divided and on the brink of political chaos, the series tells the story of an inquisitive millennial investigative reporter, Antonia, who stumbles upon a decades-old conspiracy: the existence of a cryogenically frozen super agent, García, created in a laboratory in the 1950s by General Franco's fascist secret services. Series in production by HBO Max.

Sweet and Sour Gazpacho (Gazpacho agridulce) by Quan Zhou Wu (2015). The Zhou sisters talk about what it is like to be born and to grow up in Spain as Chinese and Andalusian. Meanwhile, Mama Zhou tells her suffering story of what it is like to raise daughters that feel Spanish at heart and who always give her a hard time. With plenty of self-confidence and humour, the dominant comic tone does not prevent the author from dealing with interracial friendships, identity crisis, perpetuation of the family name, the tension between integration on one side and survival of Chinese culture on the other, and yes, also with the fact that there are so many Chinese children in Chinese shops. TV series under option

Wrinkles (Arrugas) (3) by Paco Roca (2007). A retired bank manager, Emilio, who suffers from Alzheimer's, is taken to an elderly care facility by his son. He befriends his roommate Miguel, an overconfident "ladies' man". In this graphic novel, that inspired the award winning animated film, two men whimsically escape from an elderly care facility to avoid confinement.

FICTION

Becky Riot (4) by Mariano Pardo (2022). Becky is a lonely and insecure teenager. Her parents have just separated, she keeps failing her tests and is bullied at school. After stumbling in some videos of Pussy Riot, she decides to create a new identity, Becky Riot, liberating herself and rebelling against the system. A story full of black humor and bad moods.

The Little Genie (La pequeña genia) (5) by Álvaro Ortiz (2022). The Sultan of a faraway eastern land had two remaining wishes for a genie. The monarch wanted to ask him for an opponent in shatranj, an ancient board game similar to chess. Father and daughter are astonished when, instead of the genie, the genie's heir appears.

Fifteen (15 Quince) (6) by Andrés G. Leiva and David Muñoz (2021). A story about the Spanish Civil War based on real events. But it is also a story about all wars and how they transform those who fight in them. Madrid, summer of 1938. In a plaza at the center of the city, two militiamen are gunned down by a sniper. Captain Matías and his comrades discover that the shooter is Alejandro, a fifteen-year-old boy who wants to revenge the death of his falangist brother at the hands of the militia.

Villanueva (7) by Javi de Castro (2021). Miguel and Ana are young, in debt, and expecting a baby. A village offering free housing seems like their salvation, but they soon realize that the town's inhabitants are hiding a secret. A story of survival and "folk horror" set in a remote, isolated village in Spain.

NON-FICTION

The Ballad of the North (La balada del norte) by Alfonso Zapico (2015-2022). The miners' rebellion, Madrid, 1933. Tristán Valdivia leaves the capital to return to the North. There, his father, owner of the Northeast Mining Company, is waiting for him. Out of the blackness of the Asturian mining valleys emerge luminous characters, and beneath the deafening noise of the coal mines the whisper of an ancient song is heard. Old and new times brutally collide to test the protagonist, and soon the entirety of humanity.

The Twists of Fate (Los surcos del azar) by Paco Roca (2013). Miguel Ruiz is a Spanish veteran exiled in France who was a member of "La Nueve" ("The Nine"), a group of men that went straight from fighting for their homeland in the Spanish Civil War to battles spanning around the globe during WWII. Their yearslong trek across Europe and Africa was spurred on by their love for their country and their hatred for brutal dictatorships. Roca uses Ruiz's "memories" to tell a story that's an ode to a generation that bravely stood up and beat back a violent fascism.

ASTIBERRI

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

- 1 The Treasure of the Black Swan (El tesoro del Cisne Negro) by Guillermo Corral and Paco Roca (2018). When an American treasure-hunting company uncovers a shipwreck containing the greatest under water trove ever found, the world is captivated by their discovery. But over in Spain, a group of low-level government officials surmises that the sunken ship is in fact an ancient Spanish vessel. Thus begins a legal and political thriller, pitting a group of idealistic diplomats against a rich and powerfully connected treasure hunter. Debuted in the US on AMC Plus in January 2022. A Junior Library Guild Gold Standard Selection. 36.000 copies sold. Translation rights sold in 7 countries.
- 2 García! (¡García!) by Santiago García and Luis Bustos (2015). Series in production by HBO Max to be released in 2022. 10.000 copies sold. Translation rights sold in 1 country. “Santiago García and Luis Bustos have built an efficient but easy-reading adventure story” – El Correo.
- 3 Wrinkles (Arrugas) by Paco Roca (2007). “A stranger to cynicism, Roca portrays the world through a kind of tough sweetness, which is possibly the best way to contemplate the degradations of Alzheimer’s, and not look away” – The Guardian. 90.000 copies sold. Translation rights sold in 20 countries. Goya Awards for Best Animated Film and Best Adapted Screenplay.

- 4 Becky Riot by Mariano Pardo (2022). Adolescence is hell. The first comic by Mariano Pardo, winner of the Injuve Prize for Young Creation, draws on the films of Todd Solondz and the comics of Daniel Clowes.
- 5 The Little Genie and the Game of Shatrang (La pequeña genia) by Álvaro Ortiz (2022). The amusing adventure of a girl and a genie-in-training. Álvaro Ortiz is also the author of Murderabilia, currently under option and whose translation rights have been sold in France, Italy and Poland.
- 6 Fifteen (15 Quince) by Andrés G. Leiva and David Muñoz (2021). He is only 15 years old. And he is not afraid of death. Because the only time you are not afraid to die... is when you have hardly lived. Based on a true story from the Spanish civil war (1936-1939).
- 7 Villanueva by Javi de Castro (2021). The Wicker Man meets Midsommar. Fresh air, nature, traditions: it seemed like a good idea. A story of rural terror about toxic relationships and the importance of friendship. 5.000 copies sold. Selected for Shoot the Book at the Angoulême Comics Festival.

BELGIUM CASTERMAN SA

Casterman is a Belgian publisher belonging to the Madrigall group (with Gallimard and Flammarion). Its catalogue contains a large collection of comics and graphic novels and an important department of children's books. The "comics" department is more oriented to graphic novels of authors such as Jacques Tardi, Enki Bilal, Jean-Marc Rochette, Bastien Vivès. But the most emblematic one is certainly Hergé with Tintin. Casterman's children catalogue extends from early childhood with albums to young-adult novels. Our main children characters are Ernest and Celestine, adapted successfully in series and long animated films as well as the internationally known Martine.

Some of our graphic novels have been adapted for cinema by talented directors such as Bong Joon Ho (Snowpiercer), Luc Besson (Adèle Blanc-Sec), David Fincher, Charlotte Lebon, Sam Garbarski. Without forgetting the series Tintin, adapted by Steven Spielberg in a long feature film. Several titles have been adapted for platforms, Snowpiercer and Lastman on Netflix. Others are under development. The film Ernest and Celestine by Benjamin Renner was multi-awarded (Magritte, Bafta, César 2013) and nominated for the Oscars (2014).

Polina (Polina) by Bastien Vivès (2011). Very gifted for dancing, little Polina Oulinov was selected to follow the lessons of Nikita Bojinski, a master of absolute standards, who she both fears and admires. Over the course of her teaching, which she followed for years, Polina, now a young girl, developed a complex relationship with her mentor, between antagonism and submission – and ended up leaving him to explore new artistic experiences, in complete independence.

The Killer (Le Tueur) (1) by Alexis Nolent (Matz) and Luc Jacamon. Solitary, cold, methodical and conscientious, all the qualities to exercise his profession of killer are united in this man whose name we do not know. And it is not because he changes his sponsor that he changes his principles.

Snowpiercer (Le Transperceneige) (2) by Lob, Rochette and Legrand (1984). A climate disaster causes the devastation of the Earth. The few survivors are locked up in a train that never stops. The main character Proloff sets his mind on unraveling the mystery of the situation.

Ernest & Celestine (Ernest et Célestine) (3) by Gabrielle Vincent (1980). The tribulations of two great friends, Ernest, a bear with a big heart, and Célestine, a mischievous little mouse with a strong character. Both face the joys and sorrows of everyday life together.

Adèle Blanc-Sec (Adèle Blanc-Sec) (4) by Tardi (1976) Endowed with an extraordinary personality, Adèle takes us into a mysterious universe (in which Paris occupies a special place), populated by monsters and strange beings.

FICTION

The Last Queen (La dernière reine) (5) by Rochette (2022). In the vein of the great serial novels of the 19th century, The Last Queen tells the story of the destinies of the last bear of the Vercors Massif and Édouard, a "gueule cassée" of WWI.

The Last Weekend in January (Dernier week-end de janvier) (6) by Bastien Vivès (2022). Denis, a renowned illustrator, arrives in Angoulême for the annual Festival. This year doesn't particularly stand out for Denis until he meets Vanessa, the wife of a comics collector.

The Little Brother (Le petit frère) (7) by Jean-Louis Tripp (2022). A moving family saga. August 1976, the family is on vacation together, enjoying the summer heat and being carefree, when suddenly Gilles, Jean-Louis's brother, is hit by a car and dies a few hours later. 45 years later, the author chooses to return to this episode and relive each moment of the tragedy with honesty and sensitivity, he searches in his memory to recount what happened.

The Weight of Heroes (Le Poids des héros) (8) by David Sala (2022). David Sala retraces his personal trajectory which has been marked very early on by the tutelary and yet overwhelming figures of his grandfathers, both of them warheroes and involved in the resistance.

Impact by Gilles Rochier and Deloupy (2021). The story of two fates, mixing crime thriller and social tragedy. One night, many years ago, there was a car chase and gun shots. Two tragic facts cross their path. Impact is a gripping drama anchored in contemporary society.

FICTION

Rainbow Apartment (彩虹公寓) (6) by MORIKU and 5 artists (2021). 2024, Taipei, one apartment is given for rent. Only one rule for the residents: you have to be LGBTQ friendly. Each floor has its own stories. Love will not destroy the world, but the absence of love will.

Iron Boy (鐵男孩) by Richard Metson (2020). How a young boy survives, on an abandoned island, with forgotten humans and abandoned robots. Only one attraction keeps new visitors coming: an epic robot fighting tournament known as the battle of the Robots. Here, it's the only thing worth caring about.

For the Time Being (暫時先這樣) (8) by Pei-Hsiu Chen (2019). These are tales of women making lives for themselves in the big city: commuting to office jobs, enjoying cooking and wandering through the historic streets with an old friend. In the city, everyone is playing a role in their own stories, and our author depicts those ordinary yet meaningful scenes of everyday life, building up a Taipei tapestry.

Legends of Assassins (刺客列傳) by Chen Uen (2017). The greatest assassins in all of China's history – Cao Mo, who kidnapped a king to get his country back; Yu Rang, who killed to demonstrate his loyalty; Jing Ke, martyred in his attempt to kill the hated First Emperor, and others – all live on in the annals of historian Sima Qian's Legends of the Assassins. Feats of strength, tests of endurance and of strategy explode on the page as the stories of some of the world's most famous killers and patriots unfold before your eyes.

NON-FICTION

Handjob Queen (手槍女王) (5) by Liangyuan (2021). Despite existing within a purportedly open and liberal East Asian society, Taiwan's sex workers remain burdened by rigid stereotypes and negative associations, often viewed as women of low morals who sell their virtue for easy money. In this exposé informed by ten years of experience in the trade, author Liangyuan sheds much needed light on Taiwan's most taboo profession, revealing the workings of an industry normally obscured by closed doors, dim lighting, and a haze of cigarette smoke.

Drinking to the End of Earth: La Ruta del Vino (喝到世界的盡頭) (7) by Lily Huang (2019). In every part of the world there is that preferred alcoholic beverage without which a meal would not be complete. But what is the origin of each of these regional favorites? Was it a new varietal bred in a vineyard? Or was it found in a long-forgotten bottle in a musty cellar? With author and veteran drinker Lily Huang as their guide, readers will sample alcoholic offerings from around the world, learning the history and stories behind each of these prized libations. From Latin American countries like Argentina, Chile, and Mexico, to the less-travelled Baltic states, Lily will stop at nothing to uncover the origins of specialty alcohols – even if it means traveling to the North Pole!

FRANCE ÉDITIONS DE L'HOMME SANS NOM

HSN – les Éditions de l'Homme Sans Nom – is a French independent publishing house specialized in Sci-Fi, fantasy and mystery novels. Our goal is to find new talents and help them build their career. We look for original plots with good literary features as well as a generous hand of entertainment to offer our readers the most enjoyable experience possible. Time and quality being key words for us, we only publish four to six books a year. Since our creation in 2011, we have grown continuously, building strong foundations to develop our activities, with many milestones during the way. As of now, we have sold more than 40% of our books for paperback rights. In 2020, we partnered with one of the leading independent distributors in France. In July 2022, we have signed a close partnership with Humanoids (L'Incal), both for comic book adaptations (one already published, six coming soon), and as publishing entities.

In 2022, we have begun to work with other publishers in order to handle their audiovisual rights. We aim to keep our same dedicated approach and plan to offer a selection of high potential books.

If you want to know more about us and our books, meet us at editions-hsn.fr or on our website designed for film professionals: livres.editions-hsn.fr (available in French and English), and of course during the Book Adaptation Rights Market.

FICTION

Community Work (Facendera) (5) by Óscar García Sierra (2022). This novel is about growing up in a post-industrial shit hole town, in a community offering no future where the inhabitants are addicted to a fictional drug, "bricks". Seamlessly shifting between the present day, and the past, we realise everyone tells versions of the same story, reframed and manipulated according to the listener. It opens with a scene involving the son of the pharmacist, and continues in the form of a dialogue between the narrator, telling a girl he likes anecdotes about the town with For Sale signs on every dusty corner.

Spanish Beauty (6) by Esther García Llovet (2022). Noir with subtle dark comedic elements follows a tough, flawed, attractive, half-Spanish, half-English corrupt Police Detective and her peculiar obsession with a lighter that once belonged to one of the infamous Kray twins. Character driven, fast paced with powerful dialogues. Set in Benidorm, against the grim underbelly of a town that has seen better days.

The Family (La familia) (7) by Sara Mesa (2022). "In this family, there are no secrets!", proclaims, the patriarch, a man with fixed, obsessive ideas. However, in this apparently normal, working class, well intentioned family with three children and an adopted daughter, repression, shame and silence are palpable. Cracks form, secret codes created and pretence and lies cause long-term damage. A polyphonic novel, which follows the lives of the children over various decades. Mesa's clinical eye focuses on and questions authoritarianism and obedience, pillars of traditional family values.

Deadlands (Terres mortes) (8) by Nuria Bendicho (2021). This magnetic, polyphonic debut is a gothic, claustrophobic universe. It opens with the violent death of Joan at a secluded farmhouse where he lives with his family. Details of a cursed lineage unravel: a secret weighs down on all of the characters who are somehow connected and we plunge into a sordid Faulkneresque world that is difficult to leave.

The Plains (Los llanos) by Federico Falco (2020).

Abandoned by his boyfriend, a writer decides to go to live in the countryside, rents a house, grows vegetables, fights weeds, raises chickens, while trying to understand why he's been rejected, and recalls his ancestors, who arrived in Argentina from Piedmont 100 years ago. The story begins in January, over the following months, the protagonist forges ties with people from the rural community in this subtle, novel addressing loneliness and loss.

NON-FICTION

Just Fashion (La moda justa) by Marta D. Riezu (2021). Pitch-perfect pamphlet on the problems facing the fashion industry. This simple intelligent essay is split into two parts: The Problems, and The Solutions. The answers lie in sustainability, attained by reducing waste, choosing quality over quantity, and acting environmentally.

Fire Light (Luz del fuego) by Javier Montes (2020). Dora Vivacqua, a Brazilian performer, naturist and feminist who achieved fame in the 1940s, due to a performance involving dancing naked with a live snake. When she moves to Rio, she lives off her family's money, leads a promiscuous life, becomes an admirer of Carmen Miranda, and creates her new persona: Luz del fuego.

Opus Gelber: Portrait of a Pianist (Opus Gelber) by Leila Guerriero (2019). Argentine pianist Bruno Gelber, considered one of the best pianists of the 20th century, started playing when he was 3. His vocation was so strong that when he was seven and caught polio, he asked his parents to install a piano next to his bed. Permanently paralyzed in his left leg, this didn't stop him from going to study in Paris with one of the best teachers, who declared: "You will be my last student, but you will be the best."

- 1 Napalm in Our Heart (Napalm al cor) by Pol Guasch (2021). Dystopian novel told from a poet's perspective about two boys who have grown up in a militarized zone. The narrator and his friend Boris flee their barren surroundings literally carrying the weight of the past in the form of a letter and a corpse.
- 2 Fairground Fatso (Gordo de Feria) by Esther Garcia Llovet (2020). Castor is famous for his television monologues. His life is governed by luck and fate but both are tested when he meets his double, a waiter, Julio. They are like two peas in a pod, and Castor asks him to take his place at certain events, which he hates going to. It doesn't take long for things to get out of hand and a series of hectic events occur.
- 3 Among the Hedges (Cara de Pan) by Sara Mesa (2018). An uncomfortable story about two outcasts. A 14 year old girl has been skipping school spending her days hidden in the hedges in a local park, listening to music and reading magazines. She strikes up a friendship with a 50 year old man who stumbles upon her hiding place. A moving story about an "inappropriate" relationship and society's prejudices.
- 4 Show Business (Farándula) by Marta Sanz (2015). The stage play of All About Eve, by a famous director brings together a series of characters for a few weeks in which their real lives inevitably mix with those of their fictional alter egos. Valeria plays the part of Margo and has had a decent career but never really made it and now feels that her career is on a downward spiral.

ITALY EDIZIONI E/O AND EUROPA EDITIONS

Edizioni E/O were founded in Rome in 1979 with the aim to inspire conversations between cultures. At first their main interest was Eastern European literature, which at the time was greatly ostracised. They were the first to publish in Italy the likes of Bohumil Hrabal, Leo Perutz, Christa Wolf, Christoph Hein, and the Nobel Prize Svetlana Aleksievich.

Not long after, they opened to American literature (Thomas Pynchon and Alice Munro, Joyce Carol Oates and Alice Sebold, and the Canadian Mordecai Richler), Latin American and African literature, with titles by Pedro Juan Gutiérrez, Chinua Achebe and Ahmadou Kourouma. Meanwhile, they always kept track with French literature: The Elegance of the Hedgehog by Muriel Barbery is one of E/O's major bestsellers, together with the novels of Christelle Dabos, Valerie Perrin and Michel Bussi.

E/O also launched the Mediterranean noir, with brilliant crime authors as Jean-Claude Izzo and Massimo Carlotto. Of course, there is no E/O without also mentioning Elena Ferrante, the highlight of our ever-growing Italian list.

The same passion for cultural exchange inspired E/O to found Europa Editions in 2005. With offices in Rome, Milan, New York and London, E/O and Europa Editions constitute a unique international project in the publishing industry – still fiercely independent and true to its original ideals of multiculturalism and the importance of diverse voices.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

The Lying Life of Adults (La vita bugiarda degli adulti) (1) by Elena Ferrante (2019). Giovanna's pretty face is changing, turning ugly, at least so her father thinks. With this new novel about the transition from childhood to adolescence to adulthood, Ferrante proves once again that she deserves her many accolades. In The Lying Life of Adults, readers will discover another gripping, highly addictive, and totally unforgettable Neapolitan story.

Blanca (Blanca) (2) by Patrizia Rinaldi (2013). A unique detective, fast-paced narrative and sophisticated writing: the ingredients of a brilliant noir series.

My Brilliant Friend (L'amica geniale) (3) by Elena Ferrante (2011). Beginning in the 1950s in a poor but vibrant neighborhood on the outskirts of Naples, Elena Ferrante's four-volume story spans almost sixty years, as its main characters, the fiery and unforgettable Lila and the bookish narrator, Elena, become women, wives, mothers, and leaders, all the while maintaining a complex and at times conflicted friendship.

The Lost Daughter (La figlia oscura) (4) by Elena Ferrante (2006). Leda, a middle-aged divorcée, is alone for the first time in years after her two adult daughters leave home to live with their father in Toronto. Enjoying an unexpected sense of liberty, she heads to the Ionian coast for a vacation. But she soon finds herself intrigued by Nina, a young mother on the beach.

Days of Abandonment (I giorni dell'abbandono) (5) by Elena Ferrante (2002). Rarely have the foundations upon which our ideas of motherhood and womanhood rest been so candidly questioned. This compelling novel tells the story of one woman's headlong descent into what she calls an "absence of sense" after being abandoned by her husband.

The Alligator (La serie dell'Alligatore) by Massimo Carlotto (1995-ongoing). Massimo Carlotto has been described as "the reigning king of Mediterranean noir" (Boston Phoenix), "more noir than even the toughest American noir" (Josh Bazell, author of Beat the Reaper), "about as gritty as they come" (The New York Times), and "the best living Italian crime writer" (Il Manifesto). Here is Carlotto's most famous and beloved serial character: ex-con turned private investigator Marco Buratti, a.k.a The Alligator.

FICTION

A Good Education (La buona educazione) by Alice Bignardi (2022). A good education is what Antonella had always tried to pass on to her daughter. The meticulousness of her teachings are carved into Lisa's memory like a scar.

Quchi (Quello che ho ingoiato) by Caterina Venturini (2022). Quchi is the novel of the unexpected, exploring what happens when life doesn't go the way we think it should – and especially when we realise we are not who we thought we were. Moving between Los Angeles and her Italian roots, Venturini presents a heartfelt, vibrant novel that explores the complexity of womanhood, the ties that binds us to our past, and the art of letting go.

The Heart's Bone (L'osso del cuore) (6) by Valentina Santini (2022). Italy, 1976. A military regime is in place – a dictatorship with zero tolerance towards dissenters. Anyone could end up in the government's blacklist, and everyone must watch their steps. An epic love story in a dystopian yet scarily familiar new world.

Tell Me About It (Nives) (7) by Sacha Naspini (2020). A hauntingly beautiful story of undying love, loss, and resilience, and a fierce, unforgettable new heroine. A phone call that seems to last a lifetime, bringing up secrets and wounds that never healed.

Oxygen (Ossigeno) (8) by Sacha Naspini (2019). Laura disappears on the 12th of August 1999. She is found 14 years later in a bunker. Luca is having dinner with his father, when the police knock at the door. What happens if one day you find out the person who raised you is a monster?

NON-FICTION

Dumber than Dinos (Più idioti dei dinosauri) (5) by Daniele Scaglione (2022). From father to son, an intelligent, passionate and above all well documented reflection on climate change and the future of the younger generations. We constantly worry about climate change, but do we know what changes it's going to cause to our children's everyday life? Where will they go on holiday, how will they travel, what will they eat, what job opportunities will they have, where will they live? Are they going to be able to have children or will they be strongly discouraged from doing so? Starting from these and more questions, Daniele Scaglione reflects on the next generations' challenges. By taking the point of view of the parent who seeks answers - and not that of the expert who provides them - the author presents a unique approach to the theme, and in doing so, comes up with rigorously verified information and facts on an issue we should all know more about.

Living and Dying with Marcel Proust by Christopher Prendergast (2022). A lifetime's reading of, and reflection on, Proust's masterpiece A la Recherche du Temps Perdu. A highly entertaining book that takes in such disparate Proustian obsessions as insomnia, food and digestion, colour, addiction, memory, breath and breathing, breasts, snobbism, music, and humour.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

- 1 The Lying Life of Adults (La vita bugiarda degli adulti) by Elena Ferrante (2019). A New York Times bestseller, a powerful new novel set in a divided Naples by Elena Ferrante.
- 2 Blanca (Blanca) by Patrizia Rinaldi (2013). Now one of the most viewed Rai 1 TV series. "With a language that is authentic and poignant, the author managed to create a majestic novel capable of making the readers travel with their imagination into unknwn lands, without ever losing sight of what's real." — The Huffington Post. "Not just a noir, but a story in which the real protagonists are southern women and the strength of their affections. Moving and well constructed." — Gioia.
- 3 My Brilliant Friend (L'amica geniale) by Elena Ferrante (2011). Now an HBO series: the first volume in the New York Times-bestselling "enduring masterpiece" about a lifelong friendship between two women from Naples (The Atlantic). 16 million copies sold worldwide, translated into 50 languages. "An intoxicatingly furious portrait of enmeshed friends." – Entertainment Weekly. "Spectacular." – Maureen Corrigan, NPR's Fresh Air. "Captivating." – The New Yorker
- 4 The Lost Daughter (La figlia oscura) by Elena Ferrante (2006). Now a motion picture nominated for three Oscars - Best Actress, Best Supporting Actress, Best Adapted Screenplay. Another penetrating Neapolitan story from New York Times best-selling author of My Brilliant Friend and The Lying Life of Adults. "Ferrante's gift for psychological horror renders it immediate and visceral." — The New Yorker. "Ferrante's prose is stunningly candid, direct and unforgettable. From simple elements, she builds a powerful tale of hope and regret." — Publishers Weekly.

Shimada is the author of 100+ works in total. In 2009 Shimada received the prestigious Japan Mystery Literature Award in recognition of his life's work.

ITALY FELTRINELLI EDITORE

Feltrinelli Editore is one of the most independent-minded and prestigious Literary publishers in Italy. Founded in 1955 by Giangiacomo Feltrinelli, the publishing house was marked with some notable early successes, including the first worldwide publication of Doctor Zhivago by Boris Pasternak, of which all rights in all formats are still controlled by Feltrinelli, and The Leopard by Giuseppe Tomasi di Lampedusa. Traditionally a very accomplished publisher of literature in translation, in the past three decades Feltrinelli has also been a market leader in the publication of new literature in the Italian language, publishing works by Stefano Benni, Gianni Celati and Antonio Tabucchi. More recently Feltrinelli has been the publisher of Erri De Luca, Alessandro Baricco and Roberto Saviano. Feltrinelli Editore also publishes a highly selective list of upmarket commercial fiction, a broad range of quality non-fiction and a children's list. The publishing group also contains the editorial brands Crocetti, Gribaudo and Apogeo, and we work very closely with Marsilio Editori, including in handling foreign and film/TV rights on their behalf. Feltrinelli Editore licenses Film & TV Rights in partnership with EFFE TV, the media content branch of the Feltrinelli Group which selects, produces and distributes high quality audio and audiovisual entertainment and cultural content. EFFE TV operates in Film & TV original development and co-production under the Feltrinelli Originals label.

FICTION

If Only I Had a Heart of Stone (Se solo il mio cuore fosse pietra) (5) by Titti Marrone (2022). In 1945 the large country house belonging to Sir Benjamin Drage in Lingfield, UK, became a residence for young survivors of concentration camps, thanks to the initiative and determination of Anna Freud, daughter of the well-known psychoanalyst, and Alice Goldberger, her collaborator, who built an ambitious therapy project. Under the supervision of Anna from London, Alice and her specialized team created a multidisciplinary center where the most recent achievements in child psychology, pedagogy and art are put at the service of the needs of twenty-five children.

Tectonics (Tettonica) by Sofia Assirelli and Cristina Portolano (2022). 1997. For 12-year-old Maria the tragedy of her life is that her breasts are obstinately refusing to appear. She believes she won't attract Samu until her breasts grow. Maria decides to take extreme remedies: she hires her grandmother to recite rosaries so as to make her breasts grow. The prayers seem to have an effect as two small bulges appear on Maria's chest. But when Samu ventures to caress her, the earth shudders: a destructive earthquake. Maria is convinced that it is her fault due to her shameless behavior. This misunderstanding leads to a funny and touching story about the relationship with one's body and the difficult and often comical path of growing up.

Whales Eat Alone (Le balene mangiano da sole) (7) by Rosario Pellecchia (2021). Genny is a 23-year-old Neapolitan living in Milan who delivers food orders. It is a backbreaking job, which Genny nevertheless loves because he is interested in other people's lives. One night he meets Luca: a 12-year-old boy. His mother isn't there, his father was never there: he is somewhere far away feeding whales. A few jokes are enough for the boy to be able to convince Genny to watch with him the Champions League. From game to game, a tender and somewhat surreal friendship begins.

We hold the film/TV rights to many of the novels by Simonetta Agnello Hornby, including: The Nun (La monaca) (2010); There's Nothing Wrong with Lucy (Vento scomposto) (2009); Boccamurata (2007); The Marchesa (La zia marchesa) (2004).

NON-FICTION

Small-Fry (Il pesce piccolo) (6) by Francesco Zambon (2021). Venice, February 2020. Carnival is abruptly cut short. Francesco Zambon, research scientist at the World Health Organization, is given the task of gathering the information that is emerging from Italy and which might be of use to the rest of the world. His report is finished and could save many lives. But something obstructs its release, and it is withdrawn. Why? This is the story of one man going it alone, denouncing the decision to suppress the report, and personally paying the price.

I'll Have to Dance (Mi toccherà ballare) (8) by Ottavia Casagrande and Raimonda Lanza di Trabia (2014). The astonishing story of Raimondo Lanza di Trabia, nobleman, soldier, diplomat and sportsman.

CROATIA FRAKTURA

Publishing house Fraktura was founded in 2002. Our mission is to foster human's essential need for storytelling. Our stories are mostly yet untold or silenced, stories worth telling. Our stories are important ones and we believe in each one of them.

Fraktura is an award-winning, independent, internationally acclaimed publishing house with nineteen years of experience in the Croatian and regional cultural scene. Working with the best authors and translators, we have received over 50 literary honors including awards for the best publisher in Croatia in 2014, the best publisher in the region in 2014, and London Book Fair International Excellence Award in 2015. In 2013 Fraktura has begun a tradition of organizing The World Literature Festival in Zagreb which has turned into one of the most significant yearly manifestations of this kind in the region. The majority of our publishing program is related to fiction. This includes translations of the works by the most relevant contemporary European authors, Nobel prize winners and nominees, the European Union Prize for Literature winners, contemporary classics and Croatian and regional emerging and experienced authors that are becoming important participants of the international literary scene.

In 2020 the Festival of World Literature was shortlisted for the International Book Awards 2020 of the London Book Fair. In July of 2020, Fraktura publishing house opened its own first bookstore.

- 1 The Abyss (Bezdan) by Josip Mlakić (2016). "Abyss brilliantly confirms Josip Mlakić's full literary maturity." – Vijenac.
- 2 The Head of a Big Fish (Glava velike ribe) by Ognjen Sviličić (2014). "A short novel that vibrates between the great absurdity and the great hope of his characters, the past and the present, the muffled tone and distance of the narrator and the final explosion of emotions, if in no one else, then in the reader." – Večernji list daily.
- 3 The Wrath of God (Božji gnjev) by Josip Mlakić (2014). "Firmly rooted in his Bosnian tradition, inevitably mentioning Selimović and Andrić, two pillars of Bosnian culture, but also Borgesian motifs, characteristic of postmodern generations, Mlakić wisely and subtly creates his own version of a crime novel, where war, religion and a terrible secret constitute his intimate poetics." – 24express. Best Crime Novel of the Balkan Noir 2014 Edition, Jury Award

- 4 W by Igor Štiks (2019). "Štiks talks about abandoned ideas that might be important today. This book was written by a great prose stylist and philosopher activist who irresistibly resembles the young John Berger and who asks the question — how to change the world? An important novel." – Semezdin Mehmedinović, author of Sarajevo Blues and My Heart. Rights sold to: Bulgaria, Iztok-Zapad Publishing; Serbia, Kontrast; Kosovo, Bard Books; Slovenia, Mladinska knjiga; Macedonia, Antolog; Ukraine, Books XXI.
- 5 Dora and the Minotaur: My Life With Picasso (Dora i Minotaur: Moj život s Picassom) by Slavenka Drakulić (2015). "Dora's memorials scream about Picasso's misogyny. She describes him as an egocentric maniac in which the 'demon of creation' dominates." – Jutarnji list daily. Rights sold to: Bulgaria, Nauka i iskustvo; Macedonia, Blesok; Germany, Aufbau Verlag; Italy, Bottega Errante Edizioni; Slovenia, Beletrina; Netherlands, Uitgeverij Orlando.
- 6 Unterstadt by Ivana Šojat (2009). "Unterstadt is first and foremost a great novel, a reading that convincingly speaks about the fates of people who lived at the 'crossroads of history that went wild.'" – Vijenac. Vladimir Nazor Award 2010, Fran Galović Award 2010, Ksaver Šandor Gjalski Award 2010. Rights sold to: Bulgaria, Perseus; Macedonia, I.P. # BELGIUM FRÉMOK

Frémok was born in 2002 from the union of Fréon and Amok, two independent publishers which carried in the 1990s experimental comics works, focusing on the way to narrate through drawings, paintings, engravings, sculptures and other artistical practices. Frémok aims at questioning and renewing comic strip as a medium, making other artistical practices intervene, such as performance or dance, and using of techniques that are not commonly used in comic strips: engravings on wood or metal, painting, sculpture, and so on.

Its publications are graphically and narratively diverse, but they all converge in the will to help emerging new ways of narrating stories through image.

Frémok is a platform of authors helping each other, it publishes also external authors who share the will to carry comic strips towards new territories. It aims at broadcasting artworks that explore the diverse margins and possibilities of graphic literature, it supports some comic strips that couldn't find a place in the market of books. The works published are not conceived nor adjusted to fit a tradable format, each book format and printing being adapted in order to give the reader an experience that is as faithful as possible to the original work.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

A Landscape After a Battle (Paysage après la bataille) by Eric Lambé and Philippe de Pierpon (2016). Fauve d'Or at Angoulême 2017. A woman whose daughter died in the hands of a helpless father, gets lost in her thoughts in front of a napoleonian painting, escapes her life at the countryside taking time and struggling to forgive and make sense out of a drama.

And More if You Wish (Plus si entente) (1) by Dominique Goblet and Kai Pfeiffer (2014). A comedy behind closed doors: the Mother, a lady desperate about men's silliness and selfishness, exchanges messages with some on the internet. Many will come to her garden and undergo her whims, storing her library or digging her future pool. The tyrannic Mother and her trembling pretendants are fragile or egoist, human and hilarious.

Yellow Negroes and Other Imaginary Creatures (Nègres jaunes et autres créatures imaginaires) (2) by Yvan Alagbé (2012). A short stories collection about the past and the present of the links between France and Africa. The subjectivity and the liveliness of the narration leads us from an abandoned woman encountering a taxi driver on exile, a policeman helping migrants for ambiguous reasons, undocumented workers on strike...

FICTION

Mad Maxi-Jak (3) by Etienne Beck (2021). This is a to play with. The reader chooses how he or she helps our character facing the dangers of an absurdist post nuclear catastrophe era. Connected raptors, computers, lecherous giant worms, golems and violent punks have many surprises for our hero.

Ostende (4) by Dominique Goblet (2021). Ostende is, still, melancholic. Grey and silent, but behind windows, behind a dune or in a barn, people are boiling with desires, fantasies, sensations. Some noises and apparitions are ready to disturb the picture, as we follow Irene, a lady who likes to appear naked in the nature, or a vigorous fanfare and its majorette.

The Hyperactive Sheikh (Le Cheikh hyperactif) (5) by Marko Turunen (2021). A finnish sheikh flies away from hospital and police stations, with his partners in crime and orgy. This road movie and its characters, mostly represented as toys, is a mad pursuit of pleasure and survival, revealing in the end a complex character, unable to distinguish his fantasies from reality.

The Biohardcore Civility Manual (Manuel de Civilité Biohardcore) (6) by Antoine Boute, Stéphane De Groef and Adrien Herda (2020). A priceless manual thanks to which people can learn how to subvert capitalism and convert it to chaos, joy and fellowship with animals. Among its numerous exercises: collecting proletarians' tears to fill the rich's pools, allying to boars and nettles...

ITALY

GIULIO EINAUDI EDITORE

Since its foundation in 1933, Einaudi has been regarded as the most important cultural reference point in Italy and maintains a constant reputation for excellence and quality, with editorial commitment and the discovery of artistic merit its hallmarks. Its catalogue features all fictional (Literature, Theatre, Poetry, Italian and Foreign Classics) and non-fictional fields (Scientific, Literary and Historical Essays). Einaudi is Italy's second largest publisher, in terms of value, with a market share of 4.9%; a result that confirms the solidity of an editorial line based on a number of important guidelines that range from the valorization of the catalogue to the continuous attention given to its authors policy, from the publication of new talents to a focus on all elements of the contemporary. One of the continuing strengths of Einaudi's production is foreign fiction, ranging from the consolidation of established writers to the discovery and affirmation of new authors. At the same time there is a constant attention to Italian literature that has allowed the company to remain at the forefront in terms of quality with authors such as Primo Levi, Cesare Pavese and Mario Rigoni Stern, and the new and highly personal voices of Paolo Giordano, Paolo Cognetti, Domenico Starnone. A careful eye on the transformations of the contemporary world, research, new scientific fields and knowledge remains the essence of the company's non-fiction production, in an ongoing dialogue with its past.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

Ties (Lacci) (3) by Domenico Starnone (2014). Ties is the story of a marriage. Like many marriages, this one has been subject to strain, to attrition, to the burden of routine. Yet it has survived intact. Or it appears. The rupture in Vanda and Aldo's marriage lies years in the past, but if one looks closely enough, the fissures and fault lines are evident. Their marriage is a cracked vase that may shatter at the slightest touch. Or perhaps it has already shattered, and nobody is willing to acknowledge the fact.

Siberian Education (Educazione siberiana) by Nicolai Lilin (2009). Kolyma and Gagarin are two boys in an ethnically Siberian village in Transnistria being raised by Kolyma's grandfather Kuzja. Kuzja imposes a very strict education to the children, focusing on hatred for the Soviet officials such as bankers or the military, which are regarded as enemies. Following one of their robbery attempts against the Soviets, Gagarin is captured, tried and imprisoned. Seven years later Gagarin is freed, but he discovers that his world has completely changed and he does not know how to succeed in solving his problems.

Criminal Novel (Romanzo criminale) by Giancarlo De Cataldo (2002). Based on Rome's modern gangland history, Romanzo Criminale fearlessly confronts Italy's Age of Lead: war on the streets and terrorism, kidnappings and corruption at the highest levels of government.

FICTION

Elvira (4) by Flavia Amabile (2022). The compassionate adventure, full of light and shadows, of a woman who challenged her own time: Elvira Notari, a pioneer of Italian and international film. Love and maternity, poverty and triumph, rebellion and regret come together in this enthralling novel set in early 20th-century Naples.

Nothing Else to Report (Altro nulla da segnalare) by Francesca Valente (2022). A hybrid and captivating book – the winner of the 2021 Calvino Prize (a literary prize for new authors) – a perfect combination of documents and creative narration. “Nothing else to report” is the standard phrase that concludes the “reportini”, the daily, unofficial notebooks that nurses fill out at the end of their shift at the Mauriziano hospital in Turin.

The Places You Didn't Take Me (Dove non mi hai portata) (6) by Maria Grazia Calandrone (2022). An intimate novel and at the same time an investigation into a cold case that affects the author first hand. In Dove non mi hai portata, author Maria Grazia Calandrone looks into the story of a man and a woman who killed themselves by jumping into the Tiber River, leaving behind their eight-month-old child in a public park. That man and woman were her father and her mother; that baby was her.

NON-FICTION

Queer by Maya De Leo (2022). The first comprehensive history of LGBT+ sexuality and identity in the West, from the 18th century to the present time. The book interweaves a variety of sources into its analysis, from memoirs to literature, treatises, and newspaper stories, offering a new reading of contemporary history: from the role of sexuality in the formation of state-nations, to world wars, the clampdown during the postwar era, the Stonewall riots, the HIV crisis, and the queer revolution of the 1990s, all the way to the new challenges facing this millennium, with its openness toward the future.

The Terrorist Son (Il figlio terrorista) (7) by Monica Galfré (2022). On the one hand, this is the story of the contradictions of Italy; on the other, it is a spy story; it is also the human drama of Marco Donat-Cattin. A man who, with the national tragedy of the Years of Lead as a backdrop, finds himself playing various roles: mixed-up son, terrorist, repentant defendant.

FRANCE GLÉNAT EDITIONS

Passionate about comics, Jacques Glénat created in Grenoble, while still a high school student, the comic strip fanzine Smurf, whose first issue appeared on September 1st, 1969. Gradually, the catalogue is built and diversified.

The mountainous environment in Grenoble and the meeting with Samivel in 1981 favored the opening of a new catalogue about the mountain. Books about the sea followed very quickly. The initiator this time was Jacques Mayol, a French freediver who inspired Luc Besson to make his film Le Grand Bleu.

Finally, gastronomy and its God, Paul Bocuse. 100 Michelin-starred chefs are now published in the catalogue, since Anne-Sophie Pic in 2004. The mountains, the sea and gastronomy are areas where Glénat has become the market leader.

Editions Glénat is now the leading independent publisher on the market. Its offer is articulated around three main areas: comics, graphic novels and mangas with the labels Glénat, Vents d'Ouest and Glénat Manga: a catalogue of more than 8.000 titles of all genres; Children's book with the labels Glénat Jeunesse and P'tit Glénat (fiction and non-fiction); beautiful books about the mountains, the sea, gastronomy, art and sport.

After more than 50 years of passion and about 800 new products per year, the Glénat group is a key player in French publishing industry.

FINLAND HELSINKI LITERARY AGENCY

Helsinki Literary Agency is a modern agency based in the capital of Finland. It offers the best selection of Finnish fiction and non-fiction authors (adult and children's titles) – a beautiful variety of genres and styles. Founded in the beginning of 2017, the agency represents books of four Finnish publishing houses: Gummerus, Schildts & Söderströms, Siltala and Teos. Our catalogue consists of a wide range of prominent, award-winning authors writing both in Finnish and Swedish. In autumn 2020, HLA started hosting its own English language podcast Literature from Finland, which has been a success among the publishers and readers abroad.

The publishers we represent:

Gummerus: Founded in 1872, is Finland's third largest publisher with a list of 200 titles each year. It is now owned by Swedish Storytel.

Schildts & Söderströms: Finland's largest Swedish language publisher with a history dating back to 1891. Its imprint S&S publishes books in Finnish. They publish both children's and adult books.

Siltala Publishing: Founded in 2008, publishes about 40 titles a year. Its list includes both literary fiction and non-fiction.

Teos Publishers: Founded in 2003, publishes about 45 new titles annually.

The focus is on literary fiction, but the list also includes non-fiction and children's titles.

- 3 Halla Helle by Niillas Holmberg (2021). "Halla Helle is The Magic Mountain of Sami culture. [...] It is difficult to imagine that a minority could have anything more valuable than an author whose work resonates in time." - Helsingin Sanomat newspaper. Foreign rights have been sold to Éditions Bourgois in France.
- 4 Radio Popov by Anja Portin (2020). "Though Anja Portin's book is about a difficult and, unfortunately, enormously timely topic, the storytelling is warm, tender and enriched with light-hearted humour." - Kulttuuritoimitus magazine. The novel was awarded the most prestigious literary award in Finland, Finlandia Prize, in 2020. Foreign rights have been sold to 21 territories.
- 5 The Hues (Värikkäät) by Vuokko Hurme (2020-2022). "Vuokko Hurme is one of the most original children's fantasy writers in Finland. (...) In The Hues, Hurme succeeds in entwining the daily life of a child and enchanting magic. The novel, perhaps unwillingly, also touches upon the unfortunately timely topic of restrictions, isolation and freedom." - Siniset helmet book blog
- 6 Things that Fall from the Sky (Taivaalta tippuvat asiat) by Selja Ahava (2015). "A whimsical and thoughtful rumination on the terrifying randomness that dictates the course of a life." - Booklist Advance Review. The novel was the winner of the EU Prize for Literature in 2015. Forced to return to Rimini, where his father lives, he will find in the viscous and welcoming small-town, the right place to heal his wounds and dangerous vices.

Paolo and Francesca (Paolo e Francesca) (6) by Matteo Strukul (2022). One of the most famous love stories of all times told in a modern key to young readers, written by the bestselling author of the Medici's saga, who delves into the captivating tale of Paolo Malatesta and Francesca da Rimini set against the splendor of Medieval Italy.

Summer in Borgomarina (Un'estate a Borgomarina) (7) by Enrico Franceschini (2022). A thriller set against the backdrop of the national-popular myth of Italian holidays, a Fellini-style comedy noir with male friendship at its core and with its roots planted in History.

Tasmania by Paolo Giordano (2022). The new novel from the internationally bestselling author Paolo Giordano: the story of the life and relationships of a forty-year-old man, amidst ambitions, uncertainties, and temptations. Tasmania photographs our time and its sudden and irreversible changes, reflected in the story of the protagonist and those around him, caught in an endless game of references, constantly looking for a place where it is possible to be saved: a place that perhaps really exists or perhaps it's just a mirage.

The Heartbeat Island (L'isola dei battiti del cuore) (8) by Laura Imai Messina (2022). After the internationally bestselling novel "The Phone Booth at the Edge of the World", Laura Imai Messina comes with a new touching and evocative novel centered on the uninhabited Japanese island of Teshima, where there is The Heart Archive, a place where you can record your own heartbeat and where Messina's characters, lost in their memories and mistakes, eventually finds solace.

It's Never Night When You Sleep (Non è mai notte quando dormi) by Tullio Avoledo (2022). After the success of "Nero come la notte" (winner of the Scerbanenco Prize 2020), the violent and politically incorrect former policeman Sergio Stokar returns. His long-time enemy, Alemanno Ferrari, will force him into a dangerous undertaking at the edge of suicide: to bring his son home alive.

Twice Anna (Due volte Anna) by Simona Lo Iacono (2022). Anna Maria Ortese and Anna Cannavò: the first, one of the greatest Italian writers of the 20th century, the last an 11-year-old girl growing up in a poor family in the South of Italy. Two words apart destined to meet thanks to a school competition and one love: literature and all the freedom it can give.

FRANCE, CANADA MATRIOCHKAS / ALTO

Founded by Maÿlis Vauterin and Delphine Clot in January 2022, Matriochkas is a book to film creative bureau. Maÿlis and Delphine have worked in the book and film industries for over 20 years and decided to combine their expertise to enable great stories to be successfully turned into films and TV series. Matriochkas therefore offers to accompany every step of the process, from identifying IPs with particular adaptability potential to promoting them, as well as negotiating the option and purchasing agreements and seeing them through until the film release.

In addition, Matriochkas can also carry out specific searches for producers, directors or actors, helping them spot and source the relevant book material for their next project. Our aim is to support all the stakeholders in the book-to-film chain, building more links between the two industries.

On the occasion of the Venice BARM, Matriochkas is proud to represent Alto, a bold and innovative independent publishing house based in Québec City, as well as a range of clients which includes French and Canadian publishers, as well as French and international literary agencies, representing film rights in a diverse range of books (including genre, literary, children, non-fiction IPs).

Secret Little Book (Quaderno proibito) (5) by Alba de Céspedes (1952, 2022). Until Valeria began confiding her secret thoughts to a little black book, she never suspected how unsatisfied she had become with the shabby gentility of her bourgeois life.

The Lover With No Home Address (L'amante senza fissa dimora) (6) by Fruttero & Lucentini (1986, 2022). The setting is Venice. The month November. She is an elegant Roman princess who scouts for an English auction house. He is a fascinating, mysterious man of an indeterminate age, who seems to know every language and all secrets. But who is he really? Around them, Venice becomes a character in its own right.

The Wandering Elban (L'elbano errante) by Pino Cacucci (2022). Elba Island, spring of 1544. The Turkish corsairs attack the island: young Lucero is wounded and his sister kidnaped. Through a giant narrative machine that covers the Italian Renaissance, Lucero becomes a soldier of fortune and Angelina enters the Lord of Algiers' nuptial bed.

Witch Says Colour (Strega comanda colore) (7) by Chiara Tagliaferri (2022). It all begins in the most godforsaken province of the Po Valley, where a merciless grandmother holds her family in check with her money. At the age of five her granddaughter starts her rebellion: ignited by the colors of transgression, this girl fights for love, beauty, money. When she arrives in Rome, determined to strip everyone else to get what she wants, she meets the one person capable of making her vulnerable.

NON-FICTION

Super Easy by Khaby Lame (2022). In this comic book, Khaby Lame draws from his life experiences to become Super Easy, the superhero of simplicity, a kid like any other except for his special power: finding humor in the daily little big challenges and scaling down every problem that life presents us.

A collection of amusing adventure strips solving needlessly complicated situations that we often create on our own.

The Legacy of a Judge (L'eredità di un giudice) by Maria Falcone (2022). On the thirtieth anniversary of the Capaci bombing, Judge Falcone's sister shares stories about her brother. A testimony that combines personal history with one of the most tragic pages in our country's recent history.

Hidden in the Canvas (Nascoste nella tela) by Paolo Zamboni (2021). As a doctor with a passion for art, the author places every work of art in its historical context and starts noticing the clinical signs of illnesses depicted in some of the most famous paintings. In this way he tells us something more about the artist and the people portrayed.

Still Bleeding (Sanguina ancora) (8) by Paolo Nori (2021). Everything started with Crime and Punishment, a novel that Paolo read when he was young: it's an initiation and an adventure at the same time. That novel, published more than 100 years ago, 3000km away, made Nori asks himself: "I'm still bleeding. Why?". By reconstructing the key events in Dostoevskij's life, Paolo reveals the proximity and brotherly feelings that make our human experiences so universal.

NON-FICTION

From Head to Toe (De la tête aux pieds) by Florence Pinaud, Arnaud Nebbache (2022). Binoculars to see in the distance? An oxygen bottle to breathe underwater? A prosthesis made of Lego? And an artificial heart, soon to come? An exoskeleton? Trying to improve the human body is not a recent science, and has always been fascinating. New technologies always shake science up. This cutting edge book allows to discover and explain, from head to toe, organ by organ, all inventions, past, present and future, that protect our body, repair our wounds and cure our diseases. A fascinating overview of inventions that come to the rescue of the human body, with a peek into the future.

Heroic (Héroïques) by Eric Mathivet, Marlène Normand (2021). The idea of competition for survival between species has been a fact since Darwin, and it has led to a scientific revolution. But it now seems that this vision must be somewhat modified: ecosystems actually support and help each other! New research shows that at the bottom of the seas, above and below ground, living beings survive much better if they create links of cooperation rather than competition. It's a soft revolution that invites us to rethink our relations under a different angle: that of altruism.

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

Blackbird Blackbird Blackberry by Tamta Melashvili (2020). Currently in production and to be directed by Elene Navariani. The novel is about a middle aged woman, living her undisturbed, peaceful, lonely life until one day she falls in love for the first time to a married man. Her life changes completely in a day. She lives without following the existing norms of the small society she is part of. The translation rights of the novel have been sold to Germany, France, Armenia and Greece. The novel received a literary prize for the best 2020 novel nomination.

Flight from the USSR by Dato Turashvili (2009). The novel is the ultimate bestseller in Georgia and is based on one of the most tragic events of the 1980s when seven young people hijacked an airplane in an attempt to escape from the Soviet Union. Their motivation was to flee the country and force the plane to change the flight destination and land in the USA instead of where it was initially meant to fly to. The plane never took off as the agents were already informed about this act and they were waiting at the airport. However, they let the young people get on the plane and do what they had intended to do. The airplane was surrounded by special armed forces and all the young 'rebels' were captured on spot. The only survivor was a girl, who moved to the USA after the hearing at court, she never returned to Georgia and it is rumored that she forcefully had to undergo the abortion.

TAIPEI THE GRAYHAWK AGENCY

Our story began in 2004, when a young translator-slash-fantasy-nerd named Gray Tan (hint: he translated A Game of Thrones into Chinese) was introduced to the agent business. Gray immediately fell in love with advocating for authors and bringing great stories across cultures. Four years later, he struck out on his own and opened The Grayhawk Agency (GHA). Today we are a team of twenty people, representing over 200 international publishers and agencies in Taiwan, China, Thailand, Vietnam, and Indonesia. In addition to our thriving sub-agent business, we are proud to represent a carefully curated list of Asian writers to the international audience. GHA authors have been translated into over thirty languages, hit numerous bestseller lists, and nominated for major awards, including the National Book Award and International Booker Prize.

In Spring 2018, we officially launched our Film & TV department, which specializes in handling Film & TV rights for our clients and focuses on the expansion of our book-to-film category. We not only represent Chinese-language classics and literary works for film/TV/live stage adaptations, we also provide access for the international bestsellers around the world into the thriving Chinese-language Film & TV market that is in high demand for great stories.

FICTION

The Third Bullet (Di san ke zi dan) by Chang Kuo-Li (2022). The second novel featuring rogue sniper Alex Wu is based on the attempted assassination of Taiwan President Chen Shui-Bian in 2004, which many believe was staged by Chen himself in order to win reelection. The question is – how did he do it?

Tangerine Green (Gyurui mat) (5) by Cho Nam-joo (2020). Four girls decide not to pursue the more prestigious high schools in Seoul; they will stay local and stay together, best friends forever. Yet each girl has secret longings, family troubles, and personal sorrows. What’s the real story behind this seemingly incomprehensible decision?

The Green Monkey Syndrome (Lu hou chieh) (6) by Andrew Yeh (2020). The classic Chinese SF novel-in-stories about a fictional island nation in Asia and its unconventional warfare against a neighboring hegemony. Deadly viruses, fertility pills, a burgeoning typhoon, even bird migration can be weaponized in this modern struggle of David versus Goliath. Written over 30 years ago, it reads just as chilling and realistic in today’s world of COVID and extreme weather.

The Mermaid’s Tale (Jen yu chi) (7) by Lee Wei-Jing (2019). Lee’s final novel tells the story of a young woman coming of age in the world of ballroom dancing and coming to terms with her own sexuality. She dreams of finding the right partner, yet her hopes are dashed again and again.

The Stolen Bicycle (Tan che shih chieh chi) by Wu Ming-Yi (2015). Longlisted for the International Booker Prize and winner of the Taiwan Literature Prize. A writer embarks on an epic quest in search of his father’s stolen bicycle and soon finds himself ensnared in the strangely intertwined stories of Lin Wang, the oldest elephant who ever lived, the soldiers who fought in the jungles of South-East Asia during WWII, and the secret world of butterfly handicraft makers in Taiwan.

The Man with the Compound Eyes (Fu yen jen) (8) by Wu Ming-Yi (2013). When a massive island made of trash crashes into the coast of Taiwan after a tsunami, two very different people — an outcast from a mythical country and a woman on the verge of suicide — are united in ways they never could have imagined.

If You Listen (Gwireul giurimyeon) by Cho Nam-joo (2011). A has-been TV producer and a no-luck businessman team up to revive a traditional market: by making a game show of... shell games. All seems to be going well, until an autistic boy shows up as a contestant. His exceptional hearing makes it impossible for the producers not to give him the big prize – a prize money they cannot afford.

CHILDREN’S FICTION

Cheetah 57 (57 hao xiao bao) by Tina Kuo (2020). The chubby Cheetah 57 wants so badly to be as muscular as all the other cheetahs in the zoo. “If you don’t look fierce enough, you would be killed to make bags or rugs,” say his strong companions. Scared and ashamed, Cheetah 57 digs himself a hole to hide in, but he never expects just how far it will take him.

- 6 The Green Monkey Syndrome (Lu hou chieh) by Andrew Yeh (2020). Originally published in 1987, these stories reflect a dystopian future so resonant with our own, it is almost like they came out yesterday. Audiobook published by Blackstone.
- 7 The Mermaid's Tale (Jen yu chi) by Lee Wei-Jing (2019). Lee's final novel rewrites the fairy tale of the mermaid dreaming of walking on two feet in a way that pulls us closer to the true motivation behind it – not love, but freedom. Winner of the Taipei Book Fair Award and established Lee as a major Asian feminist storyteller. Official “Books from Taiwan” Selection. Rights sold: UK (WEL).
- 8 The Man with the Compound Eyes (Fu yen jen) by Wu Ming-Yi (2013). Praised by Ursula K. Le Guin and Hugh Howey, Wu Ming-Yi's award-winning novel is both an environmental saga and a magical fable. A boy from a trash vortex and a woman on the verge of suicide meet on the eastern coast of Taiwan. Their journey will reveal a life-changing truth hidden deep in the mountains. Rights sold in 18 territories.

ITALY TUNUÉ

PAST MAIN PUBLICATIONS

7 Crimes (7 Crimini) (1) by Katja Centomo, Emanuele Sciarretta, Daniele Caluri, Marco Caselli (2021). 7 Crimes is a series composed of seven graphic novels from the pens of Katja Centomo and Emanuele Sciarretta. Each volume focus on a specific crime, with some exemplar criminal stories becoming sort of case study. The crimes narrated will be: scam, murder, extortion, kidnapping, theft, rape, criminal conspiracy. At the end of each narration the crime is examined from a legal in-depth analysis point of view. The first case, with drawings by Marco Caselli, will talk about fraud crime and will be rich in intriguing scenes, comedy, drama, irony and unexpected turns of events, where the cheater in the end will be cheated. The main protagonist is Massimo D'Ettori, a young looking judge, who, in the development of the story, will gain more and more details, becoming a compelling figure that will lead the reader to a final twist revelation, in a narrative arc that is a true "story in the story", while horizontal and vertical plots unfold.

Hunting Season (Stagione di caccia) (2) by Emiliano Pagani and Bruno Cannucciari (2019). A page-turner thriller, both for its rhythm and its beautiful art. Prejudices, a narrow-minded vision of the world and many twists are the successful ingredients of Kraken, winner of several awards in Italy, sold in various countries. In a village buried among the woods, three women run an organic product farm, but the town is inhabited by hunters who do not look favourably at the activities of the women: too modern, compared to their traditions.

Kraken by Emiliano Pagani and Bruno Cannucciari (2017). A dark tale about a difficult boy who decides to find and kill the Kraken. The rights were sold to France, Poland and Spain and also to Draka Production in order to realise a film adaptation.

FICTION

Invisible Colors (Colori invisibili) (4) by Sabrina Gabrielli (2022). Two years have passed since Leila stopped seeing colors. She spends her days in her studio apartment, she's resigned to see the world in sepia and to see food as an unattractive monochromatic thing. Until the night in which she meets Luca, a pizza delivery guy that she sees covered in the color orange, and everything changes. In a whirlwind of old memories, new friends and rock concerts, Leila tries to understand the reason behind the sudden explosions of color that have been striking her. Why does it keep happening? Is it just her imagination on, is it due to the surgery she had after the stroke, or is it something else...?

The Wind of Freedom (Vento di libertà) (7) by Lelio Bonaccorso (2022). Lelio Bonaccorso creates a family saga filled with love, pride, strength and with the will to fight for freedom, set in medieval Sicily oppressed by the Angevin dominance. Dina and Jacques come from two different families, cultures and worlds, but this doesn't stop them from falling in love with each other. How will they be able to live their love while Sicilians and French soldiers are trying to kill each other? This graphic novel perfectly blends fiction on and reality and draws the readers' attention on to two important themes, today as much as in the past: the fact that foreigners are seen as a threat and love as the engine that allows us to conquer freedom.

NON-FICTION

It's Better Laughing (Ridi che è meglio) by Pera Toons (2022). The latest book of Pera Toons not only makes us laugh our head off with irresistible puns, but it is also a gamebook, where the reader becomes the main character choosing at the end of each page which action they should take. You can either read each page of the book, or choose to face the many trials or requests and move freely everywhere among the pages, in a non-sequential manner. At the end, you will find a series of stories where Pera Toons tells his readers about himself.

Fight for the Last Joke (Sfida all'ultima battuta) (2) by Pera Toons (2021). A new student arrived in Pera's school. He has already made himself known to the other students and has a lot of fans. His name is Ale. Pera avoids him as much as possible, until when Pera asks his school mate Ely to go out together. Ale likes Ely too, so he challenges Pera to a fight to the last joke. Pera feels confident, after all jokes are his thing, but Ale is not so bad either. Ale's skills in making jokes throw Pera into a big crisis. Pera will need help from his friends Kenny and the Guru to find inspiration and remembersome of his best jokes and make up new ones to defeat Ale and finally go out with Ely. Will Pera make it? And Ely, will she agree to go out with the winner, or will she be the one to decide what to do? All the answers will be found in Pera Toons new work, Pera Toons: Fight to the Last Joke!
